Now you dont have to hear (or feel) your phone when it rings.
A Cellink flashing antenna will alert you to a call by strobing bright colours from the stubby antenna. No signal loss (runs on harmonics). Works on transmit and receive. Many styles available, including clear and our new black range with coloured bands that flash! Very kewl. Watch your friends eyes light up when your phone receives a call!

Great for noisy environments like a night club, work sites, or where the ring would be intrusive, like in a board meeting, etc.

This exciting new product has been designed and made in the USA. The antenna itself is less than 1mm thick and is installed either in the front left corner of the windscreen or in the middle of the read window in the vehicle. Being totally internal, the antenna offers a number of unique features not available in regular "on-glass" antenna designs, while providing similar or better performance than "on-glass". There are no external antennas to break or lose, theft and vandalism of the antenna become a thing of the past and the local car wash no longer poses a problem for the unknowing user. Wind noise produced by on-glass designs is often annoying and eliminated by the "Cellular Patch". The Patch is cable feed therefore does not experience the same loses in signal that a through glass design is exposed to. The multipolarization means the antenna picks up signals that are vertically or horizontally polarized (ie, spurious signals). The multipolar system uses an advanced, copper-etched serpentine array contour design that significantly improves performance under adverse polarity conditions. All up, the "Cellular Patch" is a top performing antenna offering features that ensure you will have clear reliable performance from your cellular phone. Seeing is believing, buy one and try it out yourself, you won't be disappointed. www.benelec.com.au
